ROAD TO INFINITY

Mugen means infinity in Japanese. In the country of the rising sun, where the rich history of motorcycling is founded on precision and respect for performance, the spirit of mugen erases the limits of what can be achieved. Mugen is no limits. Mugen is infinite possibility.

As a stunt riding pioneer in Hungary and successful racer known for his stunts all over the world, the owner and founder of MUGENRACE had plenty of experience testing the durability of motorcycle gear. After years of distributing motorcycle apparel products, he decided to develop his own brand and line of performance gear. His goal was to share his experience with motorcycles and the limitless possibilities they provide on the track and open road; to capture the spirit of mugen, while developing an industry-leading product that provided safe protection combined with superior quality suitable for MotoGP racers. Founded in 2001, MUGENRACE is the mark of quality and infinite potential he was aiming for.

Welcome to the MUGENRACE journey.

DYNAMIC TEST

CRASHING AT A SPEED OF 200 KM/H!

Product development meant new challenges. It took eight years of testing to find the best solution that met the highest quality and durability standards. The core product was the leather suit, which was manufactured in multiple countries and continents based on a continuously improving design.

By incorporating knowledge and experience collected through rigorous testing and research, the enhanced garments got closer and closer to the expectations. Modifications and improvements were made to the patterns, the leather material, and thickness. The security stitching got stronger, and the security elements and protectors were placed to maximize protection and eliminate failure.

When the final evolution of the suit was ready, the company founder tested the product personally. He took on the development of the suit very seriously and put his full confidence in its ability to offer protection. He put on inline skates and at an airport runway was towed by a motorcycle to speeds in excess of 200 km/h. He would let go of the tow and slide in various positions to check where and if, the stitches came loose, how worn the leather was and if there were any splits in the material.

REFERENCE DATA

During continued testing, the products were scored high or low based on real-world crash data obtained during hundreds of motorcycle crashes. Crash data ranged from the common low-speed lowside, all the way to extreme highside trauma; including impacts and slides at 300km/h. Testing environments consisted of gran-prix race tracks, highways, fields, and snow-covered forest tracks.

In the headquarters of MUGENRACE the scratches and scars on the damaged suits of the MotoGP, Moto2 and Moto3 racers prove as a specific reference, that our suits have protected our riders' lives.

AIRBAG IN THE SUIT

Sophisticated development and uncompromising quality standards earned MUGENRACE the honor as one of the top sellers of motorcycle apparel in Europe. In addition, sales have expanded beyond Europe. The success is proved by the fact that the brand has entered the highest level possible, the world of MotoGP.

As of 2018, MUGENRACE partners with Dainese by supplying sponsored teams with leather suits, according to the latest regulations must also include an in-suit airbag system.

More and more racers are wearing the MUGENRACE suits and company representatives are always present at the races. They are there not only as spectators, but they are also collecting feedback and experience during the races, and if required they repair or replace the damaged wear through their racer support program.

The MUGENRACE products are not only manufactured for racers, but for everyone who likes to ride a motorbike. Leather materials can be made from cow, buffalo, and extremely strong and light kangaroo leather. The product range is continuously expanding, besides the leather products textile and abrasion resistant denim materials are also used. Riding jeans have been combined with Kevlar lining, protectors and flexible materials to achieve truly functional and stylish motorbike wear.

Every item of the range is characterized by quality, design and safety. The MUGENRACE logo displayed on the suit captures the fundamental experience of motorcycles.
